CONCEPT

The Houndies Badges are bringing gamification to the Greyhound community and will be acting as the glue for everything related to the ecosystem.

Badges come in the form of NFTs that are not transferable, meaning they cannot be sold or transferred to someone else and they remain with the wallet (i.e. an XRPL Account) that earned them. Some types of badges are temporary and can be lost if the wallet no longer meets its requirement.

Coupling your earned Houndies Badges with your Houndies NFT, you will unlock unlimited possibilities within our ecosystem, and beyond. We are working diligently with other XRPL projects to expand this concept to all of the XRPL community.

CATEGORIES

Badges are grouped in various categories that represent their related theme for acquiring them. Each category is represented by an icon that is also located within a small circle at the top of every badge.

Community & Milestones

Activities done within the community and related to the Greyhound project.

Games & Events

For any of our organized games and special events within the community.

XRP Ledger

For activities related to the XRP Ledger, such as but limited to trading, holding tokens and NFTs.

Friends & Partners

Activities with other XRPL projects and the XRPL community.

TYPES

Badges also have different types that represent the difficulty to earn them as well as their time period. Each type is either permanent or temporary, which means some type requires a continuous requirement to be met to keep the badge, otherwise it is revoked. They come in various distinctive shapes to help easily recognize their type.

Novice

Permanent

Perfect for newcomers, these types of badges are for easily achievable goals and does not require interacting with the ledger.

Expert

Permanent

These type of badges are harder to attain, either because of their sheer difficulty and/or because they relate to trading on the XRPL DEX.

Ranked

Temporary

These are currently the only type of badges that are temporary. Their requirements are typically duration based and who holds them will change regularly.

Special

Permanent

These badges are special and only come once in a lifetime, if you missed them you can no longer get them. Don't miss out!

FAQ'S

When is it launching?

Some of the badges (marked with +) will launch momentarily, but most of the utility will be added and connected overtime. The more complex badges will be launched when ready and ranked based badges will activate when we first mint it.

All of the badges listed in this document will be eventually available and available to anyone, as new ones get added to the list.

How can I purchase a Houndies Badge?

Badges cannot be purchased nor can they be sold. They are earned by a wallet and remain with this wallet. For this reason, the badge NFT tokens on the ledger have their tfTransferable flag is disabled.

How can a badge be temporary?

Temporary badges remain burnable, which allows us to burn them once you no longer meet their requirement and re-assign them to another wallet. These types of badge NFT tokens on the ledger have their tfBurnable flag enabled.

Can I consolidate all my badges into one wallet?

No, badge NFTs are not transferable and can only be earned and held by the wallet that met their requirement

Where can I accept my badges NFT?

The current dashboard will allow you to claim your earned badge NFTs.

All I need is any tiers of Houndies NFT?

Correct, the only caveat is that your Houndies NFT needs to be taxon 1. If you have a different taxon contact us to help you with the re-minting process. This only applies to the original airdropped NFTs.

Can project devs participate in Ranked type badges?

Yes they can, but their project shares allocation will be deducted from their account balance.

I have some ideas, where can I send suggestions?

That's awesome, please contact us with your ideas over to our discord under #badges-ideas or at badges@greyhoundcoin.net.
